Summary: Following the defeat of Xehanort, a new opponent with unknown goals quickly rises from the shadows to take his place.

Trials Of The Future

As the X-Blade was consumed by an explosion of light, it soon consumed Xehanort and he let out an agonized cry of pain as the light easily overpowered his darkness. The light grew brighter and the Keybearers were forced to close their eyes as the light started to blind them. Xehanort let out one last agonized cry of pain as the light consumed him and he disappeared entirely. The X-Blade eventually dissolved into small particles of light and the Keybearers opened their eyes. Looking around, all of them were surprised when they didn't see Xehanort anywhere.

As Sora stared ahead, all the others walked up and congratulated her. "So, I suppose I can't call you a lazy bum anymore," Kairi joked. Sora merely gave her a mock glare and smiled.

"I take offense to that, you were just as bad as me Kairi," Sora replied. Riku tried to keep from laughing at this but couldn't.

"I figured things will go back to the way they were. Sora here will sleep on the beach like she's always done and I'll have to do all the work." Even though he had just finished fighting Ansem, Riku was feeling particularly snarky.

Sora looked at him with mock offense and rushed towards him. Caught off guard by this, Riku toppled over and Sora started messing up his hair. "So that's how it is huh? Fair enough, two can play at that game." And with that, Riku began to make her hair even more unruly than it usually was. Kairi merely sighed to herself and quietly laughed at their antics. As a result of this, Terra got an idea and his hand moved slowly towards Ven's hair to mess it up. Ventus was so focused on Sora and Riku that she didn't notice what Terra had planned until it was too late.

Ventus felt someone messing up her hair and figured out pretty quickly that Terra was behind it, but she feigned ignorance so she could pay him back. "Waterga," she whispered to herself and a small orb of water formed in her hand. Terra was so preoccupied with messing up her hair, that he didn't have sufficient time to react to Ven's payback and he felt water collide with his face.

"Oh it is on," Terra warned and started running after Ventus. Just as he was about to grab her jacket, she dashed forward and his hand grabbed at nothing but air. "Get back here!" Ventus briefly paused to stick her tongue out at him and continued running. Sora and Riku briefly stopped what they were doing to see what was going on. Shrugging at this, they returned to messing each other's hair up. Aqua and Master Eraqus watched the whole scene with amusement in their eyes.

Roxas, Xion, NaminÃ©, and Xiruk found the whole scene highly amusing as did Mickey, Donald, Goofy, Oswald, and Yen Sid. Walking up to the four of them, Lea pulled out a couple of sea salt ice cream bars and they turned to face him. "How about the five of us go to Twilight Town and watched the sunset from the old clock tower?" Lea suggested.

The four of them nodded and Roxas summoned a dark corridor. Roxas, Xion, NaminÃ©, Xiruk, and Lea then left through the dark corridor and it disappeared. Sora and Riku then got up and they turned to face everyone who remained. "What are all of you going to do now that Xehanort is gone?"

"I'm going back to the Land of Departure with Aqua, Ventus, and Master Eraqus," Terra replied.

I'm going back to Disney Castle with Mickey, Donald, and Goofy," Oswald said.

I shall be taking my leave soon to return to the Mysterious Tower. But I shall leave a portal open so all of you can return to your respective worlds. And with that, Yen Sid summoned multiple portals brimming with blue light before walking through one and it vanished. Mickey, Donald, Goofy, Oswald, Aqua, Terra, Ventus, and Eraqus walked through two of the portals and only one portal remained once they vanished.

Looking at each other, Sora, Riku, and Kairi headed towards the last portal and walked inside. Once they were gone, a dark corridor appeared and a figure stepped out. "Now that Xehanort is out of the way, I can scout this barren wasteland for anything that remains of him." Looking around for a while, he eventually found a single gray hair and picked it up.

"Excellent, soon the worlds will turn against those Keybearers and I can proceed with my plan. I just have to get in contact with the Shinra Corporation and have them make a replica for me." He then departed quickly through a dark corridor before anyone spotted him here.
